Our Story

A beat-up old car, a few dollars in the pocket and a sense of adventure. In 1972 that's all Tony and Maureen Wheeler needed for the trip of a lifetime – across Europe and Asia overland to Australia. It took several months, and at the end – broke but inspired – they sat at their kitchen table writing and stapling together their first travel guide, Across Asia on the Cheap. Within a week they'd sold 1500 copies. Lonely Planet was born.

Today, Lonely Planet has offices in Melbourne, London and Oakland, with more than 600 staff and writers. We share Tony's belief that 'a great guidebook should do three things: inform, educate and amuse'.

Our Writers

Damian Harper

Coordinating Author, Old Town, Pǔdōng, Hóngkǒu & North Shànghǎi, Xújiāhui & South Shànghǎi, Day Trips from Shànghǎi

After graduating with a degree in modern and classical Chinese from London's School of Oriental and African Studies, guidebook writer Damian has lived and worked in Shànghǎi, Běijīng and Hong Kong, travelling the highways and byroads of China. Fascinated by China's coming of age, relishing Shànghǎi's finest xiǎolóngbāo dumplings and shikùmén buildings, and while hounded by deadlines, Damian has worked on multiple editions of Shanghai. For this edition, Damian also wrote Need to Know, Top Itineraries, Sleeping, the Understand Shànghǎi section, and the Transport and Directory chapters.

Christopher Pitts

The Bund & People's Square, French Concession, Jing'an, West Shànghǎi

Chris started his university years studying classical Chinese poetry before a week in 1990s Shànghǎi (en route to school in Kūnmíng) abruptly changed his focus to the idiosyncrasies of modern China. Several years in Asia memorising Chinese characters got him hooked, and he returns whenever he can to immerse himself in what is surely one of the world's most fascinating languages. He's written for Lonely Planet's Shanghai since 2005 and also contributes to the China guide. Visit him online at www.christopherpitts.net.
